My Connection to the Cause: I support the cause and a vision of a world without Alzheimer's.

My Inspiration: Members of my support group and former patients I have assisted

How I Stay Strong: I rely on my strong faith, good friends that are in the same field of practice, and the staff at the Alzheimer's Association.

My Advice to Others: No two people with Alzheimer's are alike; however, you can gain so much knowledge and strength by attending a support group and getting in touch with the Alzheimer's Association.
